

The Actual Location of Israel Crossing The Red Sea

{www.TheWordNotes.com}

The actual location of where Israel crossed the Red Sea was discovered in 1978 by Ron Wyatt and his sons. The site has now been independently confirmed by numerous archeologists. Granite columns were set up by king Solomon to mark the location. The column on the Egyptian side was found by Ron Wyatt lying in the edge of the water and has been put back on its base by Israel. The column on the Saudi side [which was present when the discovery was made] was removed by Saudi officials because it contained Hebrew inscriptions with king Solomon's name and a description of the crossing [the base where the column was located is still clearly visible]. Corral encrusted chariot wheels are still visible in the waters and metal detectors have verified the metal inside the coral. Links to maps of the Red Sea Crossing, the exact location of Sodom, Gomorrah, and Zoar, the location of where the Ark of the Covenant was found, the location of where Solomon's replica of the Ark of The Covenant which he had made for the Queen of Ethiopia is supposedly housed, the location of Noah's Ark and other discoveries are now linked on my website at: www.TheWordNotes.com.

8 miles long x 1/2 mile wide

1640 ft

108 ft

984 ft

The crossing was originally found by images from a British satellite and has been investigated by several groups all documented online with multitudes of pictures.

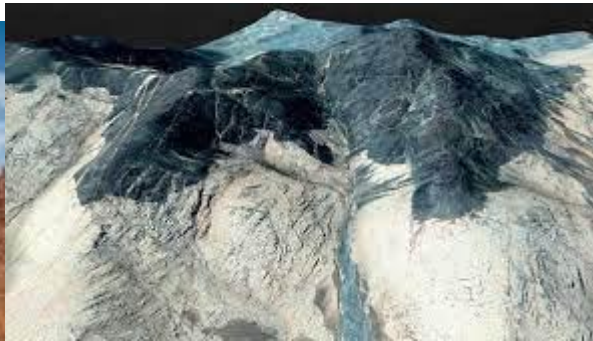

Coral encrusted chariot wheels in the Gulf of Aqaba.

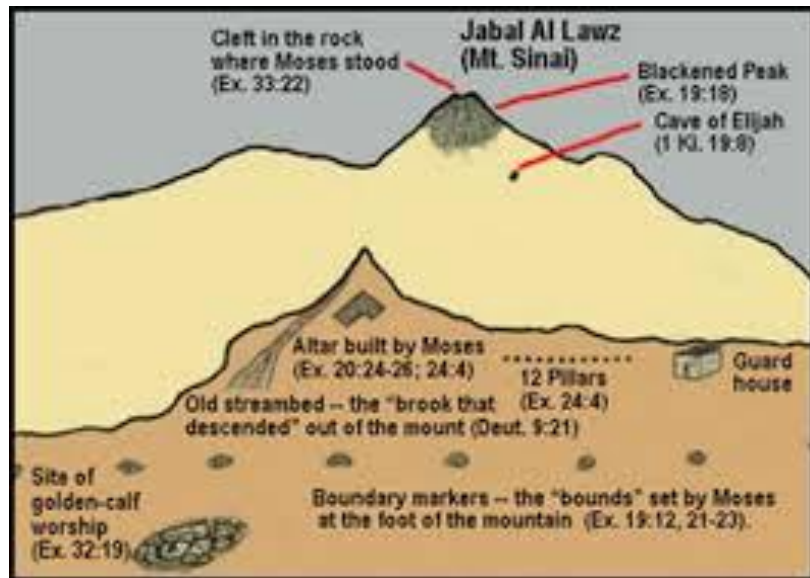

The split rock is 60 ft tall on top of a hill 300 ft high.

The mount is topped with pinkish granite rock that was blackened by intense heat and pressure.

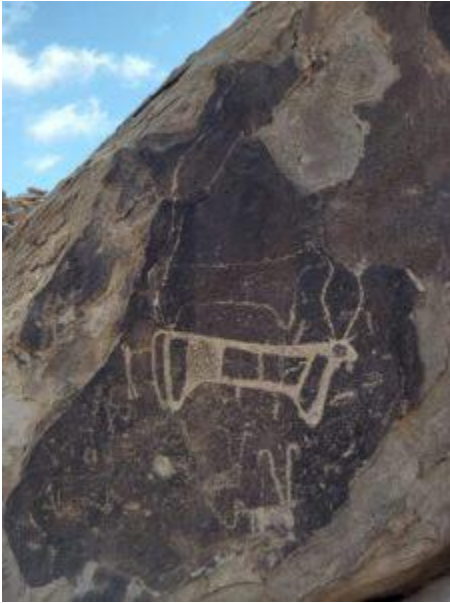

Mount Jabal al-Lawz, Saudi Arabia

Markers were placed at the foot of the mount where Moses marked the boundaries where the children of Israel were not allowed to pass. [Ex. 19:12, 21-23]

Moses placed 12 stones, one for each of the tribes of Israel on the mount. [Ex. 24:4]

Elijah stood in a cave on mount Sinai when Jezebel threatened his life. [I Ki. 19:8]

One of several calves etched in the rock where the golden calf was set up. Picture is a replica of a calf worshiped in Egypt.